

Membership

Anyone with an interest in the weather, its impact or the science behind it, or in the interface with related disciplines, such as hydrology and oceanography can join the Society. The Society is made up of weather enthusiasts, practitioners, students and scientists from across the world.

Membership has many benefits, including our monthly magazine Weather, discounts on conferences, items in our shop and our fantastic calendar. You will also receive a membership pack. Membership can be bought as a gift too.
